

2021-2022 SOAR Fellow
Sonja G. Schütz, MD, MS, MSc
Assistant Professor, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
schuetzs@umich.edu

Dr. Schütz is an Assistant Professor and physician-scientist at the University of Michigan. She is a board-certified sleep neurologist who completed her training in neurology and clinical neurophysiology at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City, followed by a fellowship in sleep medicine at New York University. She also holds a Master's Degree in Clinical Research Design and Statistical Analysis from the University of Michigan. Dr. Schütz currently serves as principal investigator and co-investigator on several industry-sponsored projects. Her research focuses on cardiovascular consequences of sleep apnea. Specifically, her research goal is to examine the impact of obstructive sleep apnea and its treatment on cardiac pathology in individuals with heart failure.